

G

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL XXVII

ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 28, 1895.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

figures. We
of goods in our
our store all
ces. They ex-
play as sam-
in these gar-Admiration
the low prices

BISSELL QUIT.

The Postmaster General Hands
In His Resignation.

it is not nec-
for first-class
of livings, cut
in every case,

FIRST BREAK IN THE CABINET.

Minor Affairs Are Assigned as the Cause
by Mr. Bissell.

CLEVELAND SAYS HE REGRETS IT.

William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, Is to Get the Job.

HIS FAITHFULNESS TO BE REPAID

The President Pays His Retiring Adviser
a Very Pretty Compliment—Cleveland Knew It Was Coming.

are substantial reasons for believing that it was well founded.

Speaking of Mr. Bissell's resignation,
President Cleveland tonight said:

"It surely is not necessary for me to say that I shall release Mr. Bissell with the utmost regret. All his associates in the administration will feel that they have lost a colleague who in all respects was a valuable factor in their executive labor as well as a companion to whom they have become greatly attached. I am not taken by surprise, for I have known for some went on with the regular paragraphs of the appropriation bill.

The elimination of these financial amendments ends all financial discussion, and now there will be no difficulty in congress
getting through with its work and being ready to adjourn at noon on Monday next.
The time which would have been taken in talking finance will now, perhaps, go to increasing appropriations, and when adjournment is had next Monday it may be found that the epidemic of extravagance
which is raging in congress will now have led this congress to outdo Reed's 'billions-dollar' congress. Already the amounts in the various bills, added to those in the bills passed at the last session, foot up $90,000,000, and if the senator has a good chance it will add more than $10,000,000 to the amount during the few remaining days.

Chairman Sykes, of the house appropriation committee, will strenuously fight all these extravagant appropriations, but he is likely to find it hard to stem the tide. He is particularly vigorous in his opposition to the $5,000,000 sugar bounty claim of the sugar-growing people, and to the $10,000,000 or more dollars for French colonization claims
which the senate has added to one of the bills.

The chances are that the house may defeat both of these, but there are many other large appropriations which will slip through. However, Chairman Sykes and the house leaders become vicious when any one predicts that the totals will be allowed to run above a billion dollars.

Mahone's Lot Still on the Market.

The house, after adopting several conference reports, struggled with the new printing office bill today. The fight is over the selection of a site for the building. Ex-Senator Mahone has the site which is being most strongly urged, but the house
would not accept it and the whole master goes over to the next congress. During the debate Representative English caused
a great laugh by suggesting that if the house would pass a resolution to all the other parties will be left for future development,
the course depending upon the action of either or both the old parties on this question.

The Indians Admire Tute.

A bill has just passed Congress providing for two new district judges for United States courts in the Indian Territory. For these two new judges must be appointed.

For several months a delegation of chiefs
and citizens of the territory have been here urging on the bill. When it became a law they met and unanimously decided to request the president to appoint as judge
of one of these courts Representative Carter Tate, of Georgia. The delegation called upon Mr. Tate today and told him of their decision. Naturally Mr. Tate was much gratified at the honor thus bestowed upon him, but he notified the delegation that he was satisfied with his seat in congress and hoped they would not insist upon his appointment. He admitted himself as ignorant of what Japan wanted or why she was fighting. Upon being told that Japan probably wanted some of the territory she had conquered, together with 4,000,000 taels
in indemnity, Prince Kung said he questioned whether it would be possible for her to make such a claim, adding:
"China stands upon principle and Japan
upon power. China knows that she is weak from a military point of view, and has therefore concluded that her only option is to sue for peace. She has sent envoys for that purpose to consult with representatives of Japan and to agree to pay indemnity. China's purpose is sincere. If Japan will meet her in a friendly spirit the conclusion of peace will be possible. If her demands are exorbitant China will continue to fight."

Relying on the suggestion that China
was not yet prepared to fight, Prince Kung asked these questions: "Can Japan overcome all of our provinces? Will heaven permit it? Will the other nations acquiesce in it? If China is wrong," he concluded,
"she is willing to suffer."

The foregoing utterances of Prince Kung undoubtedly express the general sentiment of the council. It was the dowager empress and Prince Kung who nominated Li Hung Chang as peace envoy, the other members of the council agreeing to the appointment.

Denby Doesn't Like It.

London, February 27.—News received from Santiago de Cuba this evening shows that the English were held and prayed for fathers, wives and brothers who were entombed alive or brought up dead. One woman,
supposing her husband to have been killed,
tried to commit suicide by throwing herself into a fire. She was rescued by the authorities. They profess a desire to discuss the reforms for which they took up arms, but in reality they probably wish
to secure a promise of clemency in return for their immediate submission. The insurgents demands freedom and Boston
will march to Havana to act in concert with Rubí's men. The insurgents in Bayamo have made some advances to Governor
Capriles as those in Baire.

The Guantánamo insurgents are fleeing from the mining town. The English are now dispersing and seeking refuge from their enemies. The bands in Baire, province of Santiago de Cuba, have signified through their leader, Rubí, that they would like to arrange an interview between the provincial governor, Capriles and delegates whom he has chosen. They would like to have an audience with the governor to discuss the reforms for which they took up arms.

IT SURPRISED THEM

Elmera, N. Y., February 27.—The appointment of George Cotton, as postmaster, is a complete surprise to politicians here. The sentiment here is that this recognition of H. L. Bissell is the first overt act of friendship between President Cleveland and Senate Hill. Cotton has been a prominent anti-Cleveland man.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED.

The New Schedule Signed and All Parties Well Pleased.

Washington, February 27.—After a conference, lasting three days, between Third Vice President Baldwin of the Southern railway, and the federated board of the employees' organizations that are mainly interested in the new schedule of rates proposed by the Southern railway, an agreement was reached this afternoon after a very harmonious discussion of the schedule
in all its phases. This schedule was signed by the men tonight at the office of Mr.
Baldwin, and it practically remains as it was first offered, with some modifications
of the rules in instances where it was pointed out to Mr. Baldwin that the men
they were to differ in their descriptions.
The schedule will go into effect
May 1st on all the lines of the Southern railway, and in case either side
wishes to make a change in the future sixty days' notice to the other party will be required.

All the members of the board expressed themselves as pleased with the courteous
manners in which they were treated by Mr.
Baldwin and the ready acquiescence with which he looked into every objection made by them to the rules of the schedule in their opinion were not just to them.

Many of the men left late tonight for their homes.

SUMMIT IMPOSSIBLE

On the Basis Offered by the Electrical Contractors to the Strikers.

New York, February 27.—The attempted settlement of the strike of the electrical workers and those of other trades that struck through sympathy, by the state board of mediation and arbitration failed completely at the meeting today at the Broadway Central hotel.

President Strong and Secretary E. S.
Keeler, of the Electrical Contractors Association, were present and met for two hours. President Strong gave a long statement of the facts relating to the strike as viewed by the contractors. The board offered their services to the mediators and President Strong said the following was the basis of his offer:

"That the strikers return to work immediately, before the contractors would discuss arbitration or mediation. The state of things previous to February 13th, when the strike began, must be restored, and then the contractors would only treat on a basis of settling eight hours a day after they had a desire to accomplish in it, and had a desire to accomplish something more
in the development of the postal service than I have found possible in these two years of effort."

"I deeply regret also that I am thus compelled to sever official relations with the President and his cabinet which have been amicable and cordial throughout. Perhaps, without improbity, I may say now
that there are no rumors of disagreement
between the President and any of his cabinet
have been without foundation. I doubt if there ever was a more harmonious cabinet than the present one, and its members are a unit in support on every public question."

Mr. Bissell's Successor.

There is no reason to doubt that Mr.
Bissell's successor will be Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, the author of the new law. It is also understood that Mr. Wilson's name will be present to the senate tomorrow. But for the fact that the president intended making
Mr. Wilson a member of his official family,
a tender of the Mexican mission, it is believed he would have made to him. The Senate has been sincerely desirous of appointing Mr. Wilson to some office of importance and importance commensurate with the West Virginian's ability and devotion to the principles of the democratic party. When the president learned ten days ago that Mr. Bissell purposed soon to resign from the cabinet, he decided then that he should be succeeded by Mr. Wilson.
This, at least, is the story given out by Mr. Wilson's friends tonight and there is no reason to doubt that he will be compiled to retire to private life. Nothing farther passed between the two gentlemen

with reference to the matter until ten days ago. When Mr. Bissell again assured the president that he must resign his portfolio
the president said:

"What Mr. Bissell has to say."

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours today and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his sub-
ordinates at the department until its publication in the morning papers.

The letter of resignation is said to have
been brief and to have been couched in the
usual formal terms. It recites the fact that
he deems it advisable to retire from the cabinet and that he will do so upon the
appointment and qualification of his successor. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours to-
day and was by him personally handed to
his chief, a little after 5 o'clock.

What Mr. Bissell Has to Say.

Mr. Bissell said tonight: "I have placed
the responsibility in the hands of the president. The reason is that my professional
work at home demands my attention, and I
feel that I cannot longer remain away from
the country."

Mr. Bissell's resignation was not
known until a late hour this evening in
his private secretary; nor will it be
known in all probability to any of his subordinates at the department until its

AFTER THE TRUSTEE

The Mercantile Trust Company Is Not Acceptable to all Bondholders.

ITS REMOVAL MAY BE ASKED

The Charge Is Made That the Company Is Not Acting in Good Faith with the Security Holders.

LEDGE

and improvement in employment when many who have been enjoying life more will buy more property. It's best produce is real being, will always be the pure liquid or the pure liquid is embraced in the signs. Due to its present condition and place of refreshment, it is a perfect place for cleansing the system, soothaches and fever, curing constipation to millions and royal of the medical it acts on the kidneys without weakens perfectly free from the substance. For by all druggists, but it is California Fig Syrup is printed on every name. Syrup of Fig formed, you will be sure if offered.

SE RUGS

Dantsu Goods. 2.40 each. 7.49 each. feet $11.00

$13.49 each. duplicated. Ending. Come Sunday, Feb. 28. Snook Furniture Co. St.

OF MEN

Permanently Restored.

Kness. Nervousness. Dull. Weakness. Every exercise, the result of strength, development and tone given to every muscle, skin, hair, bone, sinew, muscle, tendon, etc. 2,000 references. Books mailed (sealed) free.

CO., Buffalo, N.Y.

TRATIONS

KING WITH—

TOLENE

Y this week at 60

some of the deli-

cated with this connection with

and "The Best" sal-

PER GROCERY

Peachtree St. "Phone 500

and now ready

line in leather

stry. Couches up. See that this we-

er chairs and

Chamberlin

Co.

TING.

extra fading, 40 yards

for $3.99.

fancy down-

Matting, car-

ards, $5.85.

extra gr-

on Warp,

the roll.

nook & H-

ure Co.

reet.

BER

URERS OF

INDS, MANT

the building materials, stonework, brick-

and stone, etc.

dealers in lumber

Get your lumber

your own. Open factories.

Factory 100,

ATLANTA, Ga.

by buying

us, Price

Chamberlin

Co.

Denison

Pond's Extract

THE WORLD-REOWNED REMEDY

For Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Sores,

Colds, Catarrh and ALL PAIN.

POND'S EXTRACT is highly recommended by physicians as an ANTISEPTIC; being non-poisonous, it can be used as freely as desired.

GENUINE CURES. IMITATIONS DO NOT.

Boy & Co. for a remittance of the sale of the Georgia Southern and Florida road and modification of decree has been postponed until next Monday, when it will be heard by Judge Speer.

About five miles from Bibb county have made income tax returns. It is estimated that the amount of individuals, corporations, associations, etc., in the county liable for the tax is about forty.

Right Worth Grand Templar Dr. D. H. Martin, of Atlanta, delivered a lecture on temperance next Thursday night at the First Street Methodist church. He will lecture in Atlanta March 3d.

Mrs. J. H. Mounts Jr., goes to Atlanta next Monday for Judge Speer.

Mr. J. Dannenberg has gone to New York.

Judge Hartman will hold court at Jackson next Monday for Judge Bock.

A straight today from a prominent lawyer that an application will be filed in the next few days in Bibb superior court for the removal of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, as trustee for the bondholders of the Georgia Southern and Florida road under the original mortgage of the road. This trustee for the first mortgage has selected by the old owners of the road.

Mr. H. P. Smart, of Savannah, and others a committee to represent the interest of the bondholders, has been organized.

At the present time there is no mortgage on the road.

Mr. H. P. Smart, of Atlanta, is visiting relatives in Macon.

Mr. H. B. Anthony, general agent of the National Bank of Commerce, with headquarters in New York, and Mr. Charles E. Dot, of Atlanta, are in the city today.

Mr. R. H. Culverhouse of Crawford county, has been admitted to the bar, after a year's study.

Rehearsals for the opera "Queen Esther" are progressing well. The entertainment promises to be a great success.

Mr. Lee Langley is in Macon today.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY.

Justice Has Plenty of Work Ahead in Bibb County.

Macon, Ga., February 27.—(Special)—A special grand jury has been drawn for March 4th, to investigate the shooting of the Chinaman living in the number 10 house of Mrs. Sawyer, the newest in delivery and an alleged outrage and brutal treatment of a four-year-old white girl named Beulah Cowen.

Stewart Westcott received a telegram this evening from Augusta announcing the capture of the negro, Den Grant, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life for killing a white man named Glazier, in south Macon, with an ax handle in 1890. Grant escaped from the penitentiary soon after he was placed there and has been at liberty ever since.

An interesting feature of the attempted riot that was overthrown last night in the turmoil, was that the eight colored companies of the military responded quickly to the call and assembled at their armory.

The various bondholders, but seeks in every way possible to carry out the wishes of said committee.

The bondholders are not to be mentioned.

It is believed that he will not allow any commutation when the road is sold under mortgage foreclosure, and perhaps no commission would be allowed to the Hotel Sunbeam, which is the attorney of the trustee.

It is believed that the trustee does not occupy an impartial position between the various bondholders it may be cited that in the various litigations that have taken place against the trustee and the road by the committee, the committee's attorney, Skipper with Wilmer, of Baltimore, has had comparatively nothing to say in court, but all the talking and action has been done by the attorney of the trustee, Messrs. Smith, Deasey & Bartlett, of Macon, and others.

It is alleged that the committee who individually do not own over $200,000 of the bonds, buy it from the trustee for less than $100,000, control the property and when the road is sold to the Seafood Air-Line, in all of which scheme the trustee is aiding the committee to the injury of the minority bondholders.

The store of Messrs. C. Y. Wier & Co., just a few yards away, was entered and about $50 worth of goods removed.

The store of Mr. E. S. Edison on Prince avenue was entered and goods removed.

The Central hotel was burglarized and crockery, glasses and small articles disappeared.

Mr. S. C. Benedict lost his door mat, which he found his front steps up.

Social Circle, Ga., February 27.—(Special)—

Captain John and Collins of the Electric railway, replied today to the order of Judge Speer to show cause why he had been unable to restore the 5-cent rates on account of the ruinous competition inaugurated by the new electric line. It is to confer with the authorities of the rival railroads and report to the court forthwith whether any arrangement could be made by which the 5-cent fares can be restored.

An Old Couple Assaulted.

Savannah, Ga., February 27.—Frank Clevett and wife, an old couple who kept a store at the corner of Broad and Habersham streets in the country part of Savannah, were brutally assaulted some time yesterday. The assault was committed by two negroes. The object it is supposed, being robbery. The woman's jaw bone was broken and she is likely to die. Clevett's head is badly bruised and he is in a critical condition.

This company is the Chestnut Pyrites Company, of which Mr. Baldwin is president. They own a large pyrite mine in Lumpkin county and have already laid a road from Lula to Dahlonega.

The Commercial Club will at once take this matter in hand and find out what Athens will do.

The Commercial Club is to meet at the Central railroad cases.

Mr. A. C. Dozier lost a buggy whip several nights ago. His stable up.

The police are usually engaged hunting the thieves, but little evidence can be found pointing to any guilty parties.

It is believed that an organized band of thieves exists in this section of the state.

A short while since stores were burglarized in the Central and Conner, and it turned out that a negro named Barney Stark was the leader.

Mr. George J. Baldwin of Savannah, was in the city today and met a number of citizens who said his stable up.

He is to meet the police and see what will be done.

The Low Street Car Fare.

Davison, Ga., February 27.—(Special)—

Receivers Young and Collins of the Electric railway, replied today to the order of Judge Speer to show cause why he had been unable to restore the 5-cent rates on account of the ruinous competition inaugurated by the new electric line.

It is to confer with the authorities of the rival railroads and report to the court forthwith whether any arrangement could be made by which the 5-cent fares can be restored.

Mr. T. J. Walcott of Natick, Mass., was in Athens yesterday. He is connected with one of the largest sheet manufacturers in the country and is here to inspect the mills.

He stated that he was here to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

He is to inspect the coal burning water heater.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Published Daily, Sunday, Weekly.

The Daily, per year.....$6.00
The Sunday (20 to 22 pages).....$6.00
The Daily and Sunday, per year.....$12.00
The Weekly, per year.....$1.00
All editions will be paid to any address.
At these rates we reduce all subscriptions
but those paid in advance.

Contributors must keep copies of articles.
We do not undertake to return rejected
MS., and will do so under no circumstances unless accompanied by return postage.

Where to Find The Constitution.

The Constitution can be found at the following places:

WALTON'S METROPOLITAN HOTEL.

JACKSONVILLE—F. J. Hawley, 182 Vine St.

CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley, 182 Vine St.

NEW YORK—Brentano's, 124 Fifth Avenue.

CHICAGO—P. O. News Company, 91 Adams Street.

SAN FRANCISCO—Great Northern Hotel.

PHILADELPHIA—A. P. Kemble, corner

Lancaster and E. Baring street.

SEATTLE, WASH.—Puget Sound News Company.

12 CENTS PER WEEK

For The Daily Constitution, or 50 cents per calendar month, send remittance per week for The Daily and Sunday Constitution, $1 cents per calendar month delivered to any address by carrier in the city of Atlanta. Send in your name at once.

Do not pay the carriers. We have regular collectors.

ATLANTA, GA., February 28, 1895.

The Proposed International Conference.

Whatever the final result of the bimetallic movement in Europe may be, the agitation of the matter should have the effect of stimulating the efforts of the free coinage men in the United States.

It is the agitation over here that has caused renewed hope in France and Germany, and if the response of the people of those nations to the hopeful enthusiasm displayed here should cause bimetalists in the United States to relax their energies, a distinct setback will be given to the movement.

We say nothing of the movement in England. The most hopeful bimetalist need not give the position of that nation a thought. She will send delegates to an international conference as a matter of courtesy to the other nations, but these delegates will be in favor of the single gold standard that has made the rich men of Great Britain so much richer during the last quarter of a century. The British will participate in the conference, but only for the purpose of using their influence to prevent the other conferees from entering into a bimetallic arrangement calculated to raise prices and to cut down some of England's profits as a creditor nation.

Not for eighty years has England had the joint standard, and it is not to be supposed that her rulers will jump at an opportunity to trample on the economic traditions of their country. Moreover, it is not necessary to the success of an international arrangement that Great Britain should adopt bimetalism. All that could be expected of her would be her consent to the reopening of the Indian mint.

Whatever the result of the proposed conference may be, it is beyond expectation at this time that the British bankers and capitalists will be willing to surrender the rich returns that gold monometallism has brought to their pockets. The initiative in this matter will have to be taken by the United States which has larger interests at stake than the whole of Europe combined. To that end the delegates representing this country should go armed with authority to make a definite proposition—a proposition that our people will endorse.

The Lenten Season.

The season of Lent, which began with yesterday, is one that calls for quiet and meditation. Church folk are supposed to grow less demonstrative, society devotees retire for repose, and people in general welcome it as affording an opportunity of casting up accounts, both moral and general.

In the hurry and tumult of a year, it is soothing to the Christian soul to refine within its inner consciousness and in preparation for the glad Easter ahead, do penitential service that will brighten the contrast that is to come. It represents the gloom and darkness through which the world groped along to Bethlehem, listened to the glad tidings proclaimed on the mount, grew sad at Calvary, and finally rejoiced with Mary at the empty sepulcher, for then, truly, salvation had been reached.

In this spirit leading churches call their membership into meditation, and those who do not accept the season in any official sense, join in its intent, and are the better for the self-examination to which they subject themselves.

There are those in this year of 1895 who have extraneous aid in reaching Lenten feeling. There are those who have looked for relief from men who should have served them in this world, and who have endured the bitter pang of disappointment. Many of those unworthy servants have been dismissed, whilst others are enjoying their temporal Easter a trifle too early. But all will come right in time, when those who have been unfaithful will be constrained to a lot that has no Easter light ahead of it.

silver. Both of these nations went to the Brussels conference tied to the coat tails of John Bull. They will probably have some such feeling of dependence when the new conferences called. For that reason the free coinage men in this country ought to go forward with their agitation with renewed energy and confidence. They should organize in every state, in every congressional district, and in every county.

Down with the British gold standard! A New Kind of Jimjams.

Editor Horace White and Editor Larry Godkin, of the New York Evening Post, who have constituted themselves the guardians of gold monometallism in this country, appear to be in a state of mental irritation. Their minds are in an indiated condition and their vocabulary of English words bears traces of the temper.

They refer to those who have seen fit to criticize Mr. Cleveland's recent abdication to the British gold gamblers in fitting terms as "blatherskites." Mr. Cleveland gave to the British pawn-brokers a profit of $8,000,000 on the bond transaction, and those who denounce the transaction are, in the eyes of White and Godkin "blatherskites."

Having thus annihilated all opposition to this treacherous distribution of the people's money to the administration's British favorites, White and Godkin proceed to hunt for other victims. They fasten their red eyes on congress and find that it is "british." They turn again to the press and find that it is "british." A little while ago silver was a "brute" metal.

If the inflammation continues White and Godkin will find all the people "brutes" and every element of earth, air and water "british," or "british." It is curious that, while these symptoms are prominent in the stockyard, some thoughtful person doesn't sprinkle a package of condition powders in the trough of The Evening Post and thus bring White and Godkin back to light and reason.

For what sensible person is likely to be convinced in favor of The Post's contentions by this slanging and flinging of epithets? The Post's contentions are absurd and unreasonable enough when they are presented with an air of decency and sobriety, and they certainly gain nothing in strength and power by means of this queer species of mud throwing.

We advise White and Godkin to go to bed and have it out with themselves. The men who see "brutes" everywhere are in just as bad a condition mentally as those who imagine they see "snakes," and should have the same treatment.

The Savannah Riot.
The disturbance created in Savannah over the attempt of an ex-priest to speak against the Catholic church is to be regretted.

Such men as "Father" Slattery only gain importunity from the indiscretions of those who oppose them. The best way to secure attention and to give him standing, is to persecute him. The best way to nullify the evil work that a bad man may attempt to do, is to ignore him—to leave him alone.

When such men as Rev. Dr. Strong, of the Protestant Episcopal church, warn their congregations not to patronize Slattery, that should have been enough. Dr. Strong represents the class of Protestants whose good opinion the Catholics should regard as worth having.

The true policy is to pay no attention to Slattery, but to leave him to such auditors as choose to listen to him.

The Lenten Season.

The season of Lent, which began with yesterday, is one that calls for quiet and meditation. Church folk are supposed to grow less demonstrative, society devotees retire for repose, and people in general welcome it as affording an opportunity of casting up accounts, both moral and general.

After the hurried and tumultuous Easter, the Protestant church, in preparation for the glad Easter ahead, do penitential service that will brighten the contrast that is to come. It represents the gloom and darkness through which the world groped along to Bethlehem, listened to the glad tidings proclaimed on the mount, grew sad at Calvary, and finally rejoiced with Mary at the empty sepulcher, for then, truly, salvation had been reached.

In this spirit leading churches call their membership into meditation, and those who do not accept the season in any official sense, join in its intent, and are the better for the self-examination to which they subject themselves.

There are those in this year of 1895 who have extraneous aid in reaching Lenten feeling. There are those who have looked for relief from men who should have served them in this world, and who have endured the bitter pang of disappointment. Many of those unworthy servants have been dismissed, whilst others are enjoying their temporal Easter a trifle too early. But all will come right in time, when those who have been unfaithful will be constrained to a lot that has no Easter light ahead of it.

What Does It Mean?

A few weeks ago the city of Atlanta entertained the national convention of the Woman's Suffrage Association. Special courtesies and attentions were shown Miss Susan B. Anthony and "Rev." Anna Shaw.

There were those who listened with interest, and even sympathy, to what these women had to say in advocacy of an extension of the ballot to females. There was so much in their arguments that appealed to the innate justice of the public mind that it made itself manifest in the increased boldness with which the female orators spoke from day to day, at last reaching the stage where one of them attacked one of the most noted preachers of this city.

To the remarks of "Rev." Anna Shaw Rev. Dr. Hawthorne could make no reply, for, as he reasoned, "if I answer her in kind, she will plead her sex." But Dr. Hawthorne has not had long to wait for a justification, not so much of his opposition to female suffrage as of his distrust of the particular women who made up the convention.

A gathering, composed principally of the same women, has recently been in session in Washington. One of the most courted visitors to that association was Frederick Douglass. It was Susan B. Anthony who wanted to risk a dangerous night ride to the deathbed of this negro, and "Rev." Anna Shaw has done no end of slobbering over his remains.

That men should have honored Frederick Douglass for his undoubted genius as an orator was pardonable, but to women Douglass held but one character—that of a miscegenationist. The last years of his life were devoted to the promulgation of that doctrine as the best way to wipe out the race line, and to prove his sincerity he married a New England old maid whom he discovered in Washington. When these woman suffrage leaders made this man so prominent in their meetings, and when almost all their leaders have gone into mourning for him and have condoned with the white wife of this black man, how can they remove the natural impression that there are other planks in their platform beside that of female suffrage?

The spectacle of Susan B. Anthony and "Rev." Anna Shaw as the chief mourners at the funeral of a miscegenationist is one that Dr. Hawthorne may well hold up to the reprobation of any audience that believes in racial integrity.

It may be said in behalf of the Russian car that he was born a gentleman.

When we had the blizzard in 1888, Editor Pleasant A. Stovall was a silver man. Perhaps now that we have had another blizzard, he will return to his first principles.

Europe or no Europe, the people of this country must have relief from the British standard.

Less than ten years ago Editor Stovall, of The Savannah Press, was a "free silver crank." Now he is a goldbug. He is probably practicing to be a variety actor.

The proposed international monetary conference will not interfere with the silver movement in this country. Let the silver men go right ahead and organize their forces for victory, conference or no conference.

The Mobile Register celebrates the carnival season in Mobile by the publication of a ten-page carnival edition with a handsome lithographed two-page supplement of the floats in the carnival parade. The edition was prepared by Mr. T. C. DeLeon, of Mobile, who is well known to the newspaper and the literary world. The Carnival Register is profusely illustrated and reflects great credit not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Fresno is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register celebrates the carnival season in Mobile by the publication of a ten-page carnival edition with a handsome lithographed two-page supplement of the floats in the carnival parade. The edition was prepared by Mr. T. C. DeLeon, of Mobile, who is well known to the newspaper and the literary world. The Carnival Register is profusely illustrated and reflects great credit not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althea Terry, insane widow of Daniel Terry, who was shot while assaulting Justice Stephen J. Field a few years ago. The house was made with Porter Ashe, as his workroom for a year, the master has been in and out of it, and has made an effort to perfect the title. The bargain was closed and everything was supposed to be paid for paying over the money and receiving a deed not only on Mr. DeLeon, whose genius shines from every page, but also on the city of Mobile. The Mobile carnivals are attracting more attention each year and now divide honors with the New Orleans mardi gras festivities. Great crowds have been present at Mobile during the past week and the carnival was in every way a most gratifying success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mobile Register is in a dilemma. Arrangements have been made and considerable work done toward building a greenhouse on a block formerly belonging to Sarah Althe

TOWN.

Washington have lance before the American people for
the past few days,
with the great
opposition everywhere.

Washington, the old-time crack, which has been holding the road in its grip for many months, will doubtless be cut off.

It is now
the time when the writer can no longer remain
in the city, and they would be over our horizon.

and a man
in his daily
members the same
as he can go back to the rear.

They come to be seated in the minds
there will be no
as long as this is about to come,
and perhaps great warrior just in America the known restauran-
man in all the

During the return to keep as warm
as those who appeared in the case to come.

On the cold
and sultry days of autumn from cold
as far as Canada, and he will be the termite of the hothouse

placed to observe
some Tribune man Kernode. Most-
ward in question, if he had been intended to attach the de-
silie slices up for tourists who pass
at the union pa-

from day to day,
poem entitled

which's only a wich,

wich, sandwich
that's only

from that strange
ill intensively swelled and his Florida

that drove me so
sandwich,

sandwich that made

from a visit to the remained a well-known Atlantan yesterday. "I want to say that there is no father
and son in the world
that the man is to be found

round the shining
each that stretches
between Brunswick
and Darien. The first few days of gentle
sunshine are now
and the trees, and the sunrise, the sun, when he walked into the blue eye of Harry Raymond are blinking behind the bars of the Atlanta

police station again.

With him is Will Gause, a young fellow
well connected in the city, who was arrested at the same time, and who aided in working a sly film-fam game on the merchants of Decatur street. The kid from New Orleans is not so cheerful this time.

Yesterday he seems to have decided to do the lower part of Decatur street. The men who in that quarter were unsuspecting,
and he thought he could rush the sun into and out of the city. In that contract it is set forth by the Seaboard in the bill that was filed, the roads stipulated that
they would always and under all circumstances grant to the Seaboard all favorable
and advantageous rates in traffic arrangements that it conceded to every connecting

The bill sets forth in the first place that the Seaboard was built to Atlanta on quite a different survey than that by which it was built, and the survey bringing it in
by way of the Georgia river, and the sun opposite side of town to its present route. The reason it changed its course in entering the city was because of the sun against the company by the Georgia railroad which prevented the Seaboard from using its right of way.

The Seaboard decided to build a belt line around the city and made a contract with the Western and Atlantic, leased by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, allowing it the full use of its terminal facilities
into and out of the city. In that contract it is set forth by the Seaboard in the
bill that was filed, the roads stipulated that
they would always and under all circumstances grant to the Seaboard all favorable
and advantageous rates in traffic arrangements
that it conceded to every connecting

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into

the drug store on the corner of Boulevard
and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said
padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with
the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take
the 95 cents back and give me a dollar.
My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause,
who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into

the drug store on the corner of Boulevard
and Decatur, the young clerk was im-
pressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said
padding over the counter and jerking a
cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with
the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take
the 95 cents back and give me a dollar.
My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause,
who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver
showing the 95 cents in silver over the
counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into

the drug store on the corner of Boulevard
and Decatur, the young clerk was im-
pressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said
padding over the counter and jerking a
cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with
the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take
the 95 cents back and give me a dollar.
My friend will give me a dollar."

S.A.L. SHOWS FIGHT.

Injunction Against the Nashville,
Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway

RESTRAINING IT FROM THE BOYCOTT.

King & Spalding Appear for the Seaboard in the Case.

THE LEASE OF THE W. & A. AT STAKE.

A Full Review of the Bill That Was Filed—Other News and Gossip
of the Railroads.

lines of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association.

Interesting Exhibits.
In the bill that is filed by King & Spalding are many interesting exhibits.

Judge Lumpkin is the regular chairman of the Committee on Steamship Association of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, calling for the boycott and ordering the roads to withdraw their traffic arrangements from the road's enjoyment.

Then comes Exhibit D, which comprises several telegrams which passed between Vice President E. St. John, of the Seaboard, and President J. W. Thomas, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis.

Following are the telegrams:

St. John to President Thomas.
"Portsmouth, Va., February 19, 1895.—J. W. Thomas, President, At 10 o'clock this afternoon that Mr. Stahlman has declared a boycott against this company. I cannot assure you that we have given any notice to any state and have not seen his order. Please answer. E. ST. JOHN."

President Thomas to Mr. St. John.

"Nashville, Tenn., February 19, 1895.—E. St. John, Vice President, At 10 o'clock this afternoon that your attorney has declared irregularities at Atlanta by which our line north of Atlanta is being deprived of a large amount of revenue. I am sending a telegram to the attorney of the commission, and hope some amicable adjustment can be arrived at prior to to-morrow." E. W. THOMAS, President."

St. John Comes Back with Spirit.

"Portsmouth, Va., February 19, 1895.—J. W. Thomas, President. I cannot believe you are referring to the recent irregularities of this city, which appears as the Seaboard's attorneys in the case.

Judge Lumpkin issued a restraining order against the Western and Atlantic and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis to hold good until March 9th, at which time he would be able to file a petition to the court for what he wanted.

In plain English, when the boycott against the Seaboard takes effect tomorrow, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and the Western and Atlantic cannot take part in it.

And unless good cause is shown by them when the case comes to a hearing a permanent injunction will be granted.

The order issued by Judge Lumpkin is as follows:

"Atlanta, Fulton County, Georgia.—Read and Sanctioned.—Let it be known to all defendants serving before me on March 9, 1895, at 10 o'clock, a.m. or 2 p.m. or thereafter as a hearing can be had at chambers of Fulton Superior Court, why injunction should not be granted, as prayed, for what he wanted.

He will be advised, in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the company, to appear and file a petition to the court for what he wanted.

Those who were absent sent letters of regret or explanations of their absence, but all expressing an earnest interest in the matter.

Colonel Thomas Holds Out.

"Nashville, Tenn., February 19, 1895.—E. St. John, Vice President. Well, I regret exceedingly that, in view of doing all I can, by agreement, there is no alternative left but to comply with the instructions of the commissioners."

"J. W. THOMAS, President."

AS TO THE SOUTHERN SHOPS.

Met Yesterday Afternoon.

According to the call of Chairman Stewart F. Woodson, the committee appointed by the mass meeting held day before yesterday took action with regard to the threatened removal of the shops of the Southern railway from Atlanta, held at the meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The committee held at the office of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and there were present S. F. Woodson, T. B. Nest, Jacob Haas, Martin Amorus, H. M. Scott and Clifford Anderson.

It was decided, after much discussion to confer with the attorneys involved in the case suits for damages against the railroads, and Chairman Woodson was instructed to arrange with them to meet the committee at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the same office.

It is believed that everything will be arranged satisfactorily and that the suit will be dismissed.

HARRY NIPED AGAIN.

The Young Crook Was Filmflamming.

The Merchants of Decatur Street.

The blue eye of Harry Raymond are blushing behind the bars of the Atlanta police station again.

With him is Will Gause, a young fellow well connected in the city, who was arrested at the same time, and who aided in working a sly film-fam game on the merchants of Decatur street. The kid from New Orleans is not so cheerful this time.

Yesterday he seems to have decided to do the lower part of Decatur street. The men who in that quarter were unsuspecting, and he thought he could rush the sun into and out of the city. In that contract it is set forth by the Seaboard in the bill that was filed, the roads stipulated that they would always and under all circumstances grant to the Seaboard all favorable and advantageous rates in traffic arrangements that it conceded to every connecting

The bill sets forth in the first place that the Seaboard was built to Atlanta on quite a different survey than that by which it was built, and the survey bringing it in by way of the Georgia river, and the sun opposite side of town to its present route. The reason it changed its course in entering the city was because of the sun against the company by the Georgia railroad which prevented the Seaboard from using its right of way.

The Seaboard decided to build a belt line around the city and made a contract with the Western and Atlantic, leased by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, allowing it the full use of its terminal facilities into and out of the city. In that contract it is set forth by the Seaboard in the bill that was filed, the roads stipulated that they would always and under all circumstances grant to the Seaboard all favorable and advantageous rates in traffic arrangements that it conceded to every connecting

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take the 95 cents back and give me a dollar. My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause, who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take the 95 cents back and give me a dollar. My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause, who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take the 95 cents back and give me a dollar. My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause, who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take the 95 cents back and give me a dollar. My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause, who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.50.

"I don't want this small change. Take the 95 cents back and give me a dollar. My friend will give me a dollar."

The clerk handed a dollar to Gause, who was the friend Harry referred to.

"Well you can just take back this silver showing the 95 cents in silver over the counter."

The two strolled out to the store opposite Oakland cemetery. Harry is thinking of a sport. He will measure the opportunity and when he walked into the drug store on the corner of Boulevard and Decatur, the young clerk was impressed with his swell appearance.

"Package of cigarettes, please," he said padding over the counter and jerking a cigarette from his pocket.

The cigarettes were handed over with the change, amounting to $1.

Afraid to Sell.

And There Is No Encouragement to Buy Cotton at the Low Prices.

THE CONSEQUENCE A DRAGGING MARKET

Continued Strength of Exchange Keeping Stock Operators on the Anxious Seat. Active Issues Higher.

New York, February 27.—A firm tone characterized the trading at the stock exchange all day near the close of business when there was no sign of any change due to the advance in the posted rates of sterling exchange to £38 and £34, by one of the leading drawers. The continued strength of the exchanges kept the operators on the anxious seat, and is leading to rumors of wild exports. The actual rates are up to the shipping point. Notable gains have developed as yet, and according to good authorities, the bonds syndicate will attend to it that no shipments of the metal will be made. During the greater part of the day operators led the firmness of sterling exchange, and the stocks were ruled strong. The strength of stocks is directly traceable to the efforts of some of the shorts to get back their contracts put out yesterday on the theory that the recent bearish demonstration would induce individuals to buy. The market of New York Central, which ran off to 13½, and Northern Pacific, preferred 3½ to 13, the market showed an improving tendency until quite late in the day. Fear of a heavy assessment account for the weakness of the market. The Lake and Michigan Central, the improvement in the general market was equal to 1½ to 2 per cent, Jersey Central rising 3½ to 8½; Northwest 3½ to 9½; Lackawanna 1½ to 13½; Susquehanna and Western, preferred 1½ to 23, and the other railroads advanced from 1½ to 2½ per cent. Near the close, the Bradbury and Ohio dropped 2½ to 5½ on rumors that the bituminous coal trade along the line of the road was in bad shape. Missouri Pacific first rose 2½ to 24, and then dropped to 23½, and again to 22½, to find the standing off at the price of 5 per cent collateral notes. The Industrials were most prominent. Tidaco jumped 3½ to 51. It is reported that the large owners of the company's stock will meet in this city tomorrow and important developments are expected to take place, strengthened by purchases to cover short positions. Distilling and Cattle Feeding ran up to 11½. It is stated that the leading interests in the property have agreed to the new organization plan and the new bond issue has been undertaken. United States Leather, preferred, dropped 1½ to 10½, and common sold down 1½ to 7½. Considerable disappointment was expressed at the smallness of the dividend on the preferred. In the inactive stocks, Consolidated Gas rose to 13½; Canadian Pacific, 1½ to 44, and Boston & Albany, 1½ to 18½; Milwaukee Central, 2½ to 22½. The market closed about steady. The advance in real estate exchange having led to some selling to realize profits. Net changes allow advances of ¾ to 3 per cent.

The bond market was higher.

The sales of stocks increased 99-99½ of unlisted stocks 24,000 shares.

Money on call easy at 1½ per cent; last loan 1½; clearing offered at 1½; prime minister paper ½% per cent.

Bond stoker 6½.

Stocks exchange strong with actual business in bankers' bills at £37½ to £41½ for 60 days, and 4½ for demand, postal rates 4½ to 5½. Commercial bills 4½ to 5½.

Government bonds easier.

State bonds dull.

Railroad bonds weaker.

Yield on 100-day bond was 6½-7½.

London, February 27.—Bar silver 27½-31½. Paris advises quote 3 per cent rentes 163 francs 2½ cents for the account.

C. E. Seitz, a member of the Consolidated exchange for nearly ten years, announced his suspension this morning. He was short sighted, but long, and of about 500 shares of Atlanta stocks.

The following are closing bids:

Am't Cotton Oil... 14½

do. pref. 6½

Am't Beams... 5½

do. pref. 5½

Am't Macaco... 14½

do. pref. 14½

Am't. & S. Co... 14½

do. pref. 14½

Atch. & T. & San Jo... 4

N. Y. & N. E. 25

do. pref. 25

Am't. & S. Co. 25

TO BE EN REGLE

One should keep up with the newest shades and shapes of correspondence paper and envelopes. We make a specialty of high grade papers, such as appeal to the most refined taste and are used by the elite of society everywhere. Our new spring styles are just received and offered at popular prices. If you need fine correspondence paper do not buy until you see our stock or send for our samples.

J. P. Stevens & Bro., Jewelers and Engravers, 47 Whitehall street.

don't drink

Interior which, if you want a beverage and require a healthy drink for medicinal purposes, get a brand that is absolutely pure—of undoubted merit—old and well cured—we sell that sort—our guarantee is worth something—old Oscar Pepper.

"O-O-P"

In the kind—all first-class bars—same in size—will measure bottles—marked "O. P." on labels—there are many limitations—look out—bluthenthal "b. & b." & bickart.

big whisky house.

Potts-Thompson LIQUOR COMPANY, WHOLESALEERS!
9-11-13 DECATUR ST.

Our best and oldest Ryes are Q-Club, Monogram, Mt. Vernon, Imperial Cabinet, Pennsylvania Rye, Old Centennial, and ten-year-old Bourbons are Old Rippey, Jas. E. Pepper, McBrayer, Old Crow and others. Corn Whisky—"Stone Mountain"—our own brand and make.

'PHONE 48.

OPIUM and Whiskey Kabits cured at home without pain. Book of part. Dr. J. H. WOODLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga. Office 104½ Whitehall St.

HOYT

Saves You Money.

54 pounds Standard Granulated Sugar... $1.00
10 pound can Best Leaf Lard... .90
1 pound Arbuckle's Coffee... .23
1 pound Levering's Coffee... .23
10 cans Tip Top Milk... $1.00
5 cans Pure Jam... $1.00
5 cans California Standard Peaches... $1.00
5 cans California Standard Pears... $1.00
5 cans California Apricots... $1.00
5 cans California Blackberries... $1.00
1 bottle L. & P. Worcester Sauce... .23
50 pounds Peachtree Patent Flour... $1.00
1 quart jar Home-Made Preserves... .60
20 glasses Pure Strained Honey... $1.00
5 cans Best Maine Corn... $1.00
12 cans New York State Corn... $1.00
1 pound French Prunes... .10
Everything at Wholesale Prices.

W. R. HOYT,
90 Whitehall St. 'Phone 451.

The Original and Genuine (WORCESTERSHIRE)

LEA & PERRINS

SAUCE
Imparts the most delicious taste and zest to Hot and Cold Meats, Gravies, Jellies, Soups, Gums, Fish, Rabbits, etc.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
Take None but Lea & Perrins.

Lea & Perrins
Manufactured on every bottle of the original and genuine.

DR. THOMPSON,
55 Whitehall street, rooms 3 and 4. Cather, Blood, Skin, Lumbar Diseases, Nervous and Mental Diseases, a Specialty. Hours, 9 to 7. Sundays, 9 to 11.

HE DIES TOMORROW.

The Murderer of Old Man Leigh Preparing for the Scaffold.

HE WELCOMES HIS CERTAIN FATE

Says That He Is Glad to Pay the Penalty for His Awful Crime and Wants to Die as Soon as Possible.

Joe Dean, who is to die on the gallows at Fairburn tomorrow, was the central figure in a series of highly devotional religious exercises held at the Fulton county jail for his benefit yesterday.

Tonight Sheriff Camp, of Campbell county, will arrive in Atlanta for the purpose of carrying Dean to the scaffold, the fatal murderer of old man Leigh.

Tomorrow morning at 5:30 o'clock he will leave for Fairburn with the doomed man. A few hours from that time the trigger will be tapped and the soul of the murderer snatched into eternity.

The gallows has already been erected and its swaying rope beckons the victim. Dean will go to his fate gladly. He appears to believe that it is his duty to die. Religious emotions control him altogether and in accordance with these ideas, which he has brooded over for the last week, he thinks that the only road to future happiness will be found at the end of the hemp rope.

"Of course, I would like to live if my freedom was given me, but it was made all right with the law, but I wouldn't take the freedom if I could get it, because I got out here Monday morning," he said.

He has been in prison ever since he was arrested and let them other boys go about their plan to break out and take the keys.

"I know I did wrong and I've got to pay for it, but I fight for my rights to go, I want them to get through as quickly as they can and all I ask is that they take my body to the old burial ground at Mount Zion church, where I used to worship. I can die in peace if I know that they'll carry me there."

"I hope my death will be a warning to the colored people and that they won't let old satan get the best of them. I never saw what made me kill Marsie Eng. It was just the old devil. I know I had to have some money to pay for that mule. I thought about asking Marsie Eng for it, but the devil put it in my head to hit him down there in the field and tell him he was sick. I didn't have my right senses when I hit him in the back of the head and jumped on him and cut his throat. I was crazy and I didn't come to my senses till I was in jail. I don't know where the river is. I know I never would have harmed the ladies and when I went there to the house all I was after was money to pay for what I owed on that mule."

"I had done give up long before they came to get me. I know we won't use in trying to go any farther and I done give up. It was a bad thing I done and I know I ought to die."

Dean will be hanged privately. There are several of his colored friends in Atlanta who will accompany him to the scaffold. Jim Martin will also go with him.

"Doesn't the jailor look like a murderer than any man I have ever seen in my life. I never saw such a meek darky. I believe he is glad to die. That was the queerest thing I ever knew when he was offered his clemency and refused it and not only refused it, but told us about the whole thing. I'll bet it never happened before and will never happen again."

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hoad's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and thus cures the disease.

EARLY GEORGIA BAPTISTS."

Mr. W. W. Gaines, the Bright Young Attorney, to Handle This Subject.

Next Sunday evening at the Second Baptist church Mr. W. W. Gaines, the wide awake and successful young attorney, will deliver an entertaining address on the "Early History of Georgia Baptists."

Mr. Gaines has made a thorough study of his subject and he is prepared to entertain his hearers in a masterly way.

But the dissipations of youth's manhood should not extinguish the citizen's spirit that Intimacy with human happiness marks! MANLINESS is THE ESSENTIAL characteristic of femininity or epicene. MANLINESS, as Webster defines it, comprising the qualities of a MAN; and these qualities—VIRILITY, BRAVERY and manly energy; and SINDNESS—are based on perfect health.

BODY AND MIND.

But the dissipations of youth's manhood should not extinguish the citizen's spirit that Intimacy with human happiness marks! MANLINESS is THE ESSENTIAL characteristic of femininity or epicene.

PATTERSON FAMILY SKELETON!

can by a brief course of home-treatment be radically cured of

NERVE DISEASES.

and restored to HEALTH. STRENGTH and a SECOND YOUTH, his shortcoming FORGOTTEN and his future happy.

A course of scientific treatment by those experts special. Dr. Hathaway & Co. promptly insure the above. Beforehand he says: "Few people know how to be old."

"Few people know how to be young." Read our book "How to be young" and learn how to be a perfect man or a perfect woman. Sent free by mentioning The Constitution.

OUR SPECIALTIES.

All diseases peculiar

to man and woman

King's Evil, Gout, Rickets,

Unnatural Discharges,

Blood Poisoning, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Plumbago, piles, Catarrh, and Diseases of the Liver.

Malt treatment given to babies, children, and women.

Malt treatment given to babies, children, and women.

Mail treatment given to babies, children, and women.